SPRING COMMENCEMENT

COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY DECORUM AND COURTESY

The faculty and staff at The University of Alabama congratulate you on your academic achievement and wish to ensure the commencement ceremony will be a fitting conclusion to this phase of your education!

The University of Alabama Commencement ceremony is, by its very nature, a festive occasion. The festivity manifests itself in many ways including the dress of the students; the faculty adorned in academic regalia; and the warmth, joy and satisfaction of accomplishment. The ceremony is also marked by seriousness where the actual conferring of degrees signifies long, hard work on the part of everyone involved: students, faculty, administrators, parents and spouses. As a consequence of the serious nature of the ceremony, students and guests are expected to maintain a measure of decorum consonant with the occasion.

The University community requests that audience participation be of respectful celebration honoring the commitment to learning and the fulfillment of dreams shared by all degree candidates that today walk across the stage. This element of respectful celebration also extends to the parents, guardians and spouses whose labor and support brings pride to the fulfillment of these dreams, and to the family members aspiring to one day have their moment of “walking across the stage.”

CEREMONIAL FLAGS

Today we celebrate commencement at The University of Alabama. To commemorate the University’s most sacred ceremony, we draw from academic traditions that are centuries old. The Commencement “A” you see throughout these materials and on the commencement flags was first introduced to mark the Capstone’s conferral of degrees at the turn of the century. The Commencement A is a seventeenth-century, Gothic font appropriately named “Diploma.”

MARY ALLEN JOLLEY HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

During a remarkable career of public service spanning almost sixty years, Mary Allen Jolley has worked tirelessly for the betterment of our state and nation. Through Mrs. Jolley's efforts, scores of jobs have been created, high-demand programs implemented, and access to higher education made available to countless students. Her legacy will endure for many generations to come.

A native of Sumter County and a 1951 graduate of The University of Alabama, Mrs. Jolley was an Alabama public school teacher before answering the call to serve in the nation's capital. As a young staff member for legendary U.S. Congressman Carl A. Elliott, Sr., she was directly involved in the National Defense Education Act of 1958. Much of the economic growth our nation has experienced over the last half century is a result of its passage. America's first student loan program, the NDEA, opened the doors of higher education for millions who otherwise might not have had that opportunity.

During the Kennedy Administration, Mrs. Jolley served on a Presidential panel charged with evaluating national vocational education programs. Her efforts led to legislation that redirected training opportunities for America's workforce. She later assisted President Lyndon Johnson's National Commission on Libraries. Subsequently, Mrs. Jolley was Vice President for Development at Trident Technical College in Charleston, South Carolina. Her achievements included developing programs to educate women for non-traditional jobs and establishing an effective center for adult retraining.

In 1984 Mrs. Jolley was named Director of Economic and Community Affairs for The University of Alabama. At the Capstone she created individualized outreach programs for towns and cities across the state, helping them recruit industry, retain existing businesses, and prepare a qualified workforce to meet emerging needs. Through her efforts, community-based family resource centers were opened, paving the way for an improved quality of life for children and adults. Her advocacy skills and boundless energy became powerful tools for progress that helped vault Alabama to international stature in economic development during the early 1990's.

Retiring from the University in 1994, Mrs. Jolley has continued to invest her talents generously for the betterment of her fellow citizens. Through the Alabama Network of Family Resource Centers, she assists communities, particularly in the Black Belt, on issues related to children and families, health, education, literacy, and job creation. Among honors and recognition, she is the recipient of The University of Alabama Distinguished Alumna Award, the Martin Luther King Realizing the Dream Founders Award, and was named the Alabama Entrepreneur Institute Social Entrepreneur of the Year in 2009. She is a senior fellow of the UA College of Education's Education Policy Center and a member of the Capstone Education Society.

Mrs. Jolley's husband, the late Dr. Homer R. Jolley, earned distinction as President of Loyola University of New Orleans, and Medicaid Administrator, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D.C. Dr. Jolley passed away in 2001. Mrs. Jolley makes her home at Capstone Village.

BETH ANDRADA CAPSTONE INSPIRING EDUCATOR AWARD

The inaugural Capstone Inspiring Educator Award salutes a high school teacher, nominated by a member of the University of Alabama graduating class, for their inspirational approach to teaching and commitment to helping students achieve their greatest potential. Nominated by graduating senior Dana Lewis from the College of Communication and Information Sciences, the University of Alabama salutes Ms. Beth Andrada.

Ms. Andrada has been a mathematics teacher at Virgil I. Grissom High School in Huntsville, Alabama for the past 16 years. She holds a B.S. degree in both Mathematics and Secondary Education from Vanderbilt University and a Masters of Education in Secondary Mathematics from Alabama A & M University. Teaching is her lifelong ambition, and inspiring future mathematicians is the greatest reward of her career. Ms. Andrada has earned numerous accolades during her teaching career including Huntsville City Schools Secondary Teacher of the Year, the GE Foundation STAR Award, the Coca-Cola Distinguished Educator Award, the Saturn/UAW Teacher of the Week, and the Edith May Slyffe Award.

In nominating Ms. Andrada for this award, Ms. Lewis wrote: She taught me that there are usually multiple ways of looking at a problem in math, and in life. She always encouraged me to pursue my dreams.

DR. ROBERT L. MOORE COMMENCEMENT MARSHAL

Dr. Robert Moore was educated at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and at Indiana University, where he received his degree in Mathematical Physics. After spending four years at Bucknell University, he came to the University of Alabama in 1978, where he has remained except for a year and half as visiting professor at the University of California, Berkeley. Dr. Moore was promoted to professor in 1986. In the late 1980's and 1990's, he served as Graduate Advisor for the Mathematics Department. He served on the Faculty Senate for two terms, chaired the Governance Committee and supervised the rewriting of the Senate By-Laws, and served on the Senate Steering Committee.

Dr. Moore has taught most of the pure mathematics courses offered at the University. He has recently been instrumental in helping to revise the math courses offered for both elementary and high-school teachers, and in revising the calculus sequence for engineering students.

Dr. Moore's academic interests include analysis and Hilbert space operator theory, and he has helped two students obtain their Ph.D. in those areas. He has lectured at many research conferences, organized two, and was the featured speaker at two symposia in Korea in 1999 and 2002. For the mathematics department, he edits the departmental newsletter and supervises the Putnam Exam team. He is a member of the American Mathematical Society, the Mathematical Association of America, and Sigma Xi honorary society.

He is a transcendental mediator and an avid reader of science fiction, mysteries, and comics (until they got too expensive!) While an undergraduate, he learned to love the stage, and has kept up his interest in performing by acting in several recent films, both with the University and with a local production company. The achievements of which he is most proud are having maintained the interest of an amazing woman for 44 years, and fathering the most fascinating daughter in Tuscaloosa County, who will graduate high school this May. They all live in Northport.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The processional signifies the beginning of the commencement ceremony. The Commencement Marshal presides over the Academic Procession; leads the platform party to the stage; escorts the honorary degree candidate and the special recognition recipients to the presidential podium for honorary degree conferral or special recognition citation reading; and signifies the closing of the ceremony by leading the platform party from the stage. The Commencement Marshal is the bearer of the ceremonial mace. As the processional music begins, the procession led by the candidates, followed by faculty, then the platform party, will enter the arena floor and go to their designated seating. The audience should rise once the processional music has begun and remain until after the invocation.

The caps and gowns worn by graduates, faculty and platform party are based on the academic costumes used in universities of the fourteenth or fifteenth centuries, particularly at Oxford and Cambridge. These academic costumes, sometimes referred to as academic regalia, are based on the early European universities costumes, and these have been used in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, American universities responded to a growing problem of varying academic costumes by creating an Intercollegiate Code to establish standardized academic costumes. Black is the most common color of academic gowns.

In the fall of 1999, a new doctoral gown was authorized for all University of Alabama students earning a doctorate degree. Designed to distinguish University of Alabama doctoral degree graduates, this new doctoral gown was introduced for the 21st century. The new doctoral gowns were worn for the first time at the May 2000 ceremony.

The doctoral gown includes two crimson University of Alabama seals on the front panel of the gown, while the traditional doctoral bars are piped with crimson. The new doctoral gowns place The University of Alabama among a select group of universities who have their own doctoral gowns including Harvard, Yale, Stanford and Princeton.

The members of The University of Alabama Board of Trustees wear doctoral gowns of charcoal gray trimmed in black velvet. The Commencement Marshal wears a crimson doctoral gown trimmed in red velvet. Graduates may be identified by the color of the tassel on the black mortar board which signifies the School or if they are receiving an advanced degree, the color of the band on the hood, which signifies the field of study.

The University of Alabama awards degrees with honors to undergraduate students in all schools and colleges who throughout their academic careers consistently achieved meritorious scholastic standing. These designations are summa cum laude, magna cum laude and cum laude. Summa cum laude is the highest academic distinction awarded. Degree candidates with honors wear stoles in the traditional colors of their school or college. Silver cords indicate participation in the University Honors Program. Royal blue and gold cords indicate participation in the International Honors Program. Computer Based Honors is represented by the purple honor cord.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the audience will rise for the singing of the “Alma Mater” and the recessional. The words to the “Alma Mater” are printed on the back cover of the program. The recessional is led by the platform party, followed by the faculty and the candidates. Candidates should meet their family members and guests at predetermined designated areas outside the coliseum.

The University of Alabama conditionally confers degrees upon all candidates for the degrees of Educational Specialists through undergraduate. Candidates for Doctor of Education, Doctor of Musical Arts, Doctor of Nursing Practice, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are actual degree recipients and will receive their diploma at the ceremony. Diplomas for all other candidates who successfully meet degree requirements will be mailed to their permanent address of record upon the completion of final grade submission and degree verification, approximately one month after the ceremony. Honors designations are calculated on previous semesters grade point average. The honor announced, depending upon calculation of final grade point average, may change or in some cases the degree candidate may not actually graduate with an honor designation.

An interpreter for hearing impaired spectators will be stationed on the stage and displayed on the Jumbotron.

Drinking fountains and restroom facilities are located on the main concourse area of the Coliseum.
