COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY DECORUM AND COURTESY

The faculty and staff at The University of Alabama congratulate you on your academic achievement and wish to ensure the commencement ceremony will be a fitting conclusion to this phase of your education!

The University of Alabama Commencement ceremony is, by its very nature, a festive occasion. The festivity manifests itself in many ways including the dress of the students; the faculty adorned in academic regalia; and the warmth, joy and satisfaction of accomplishment. The ceremony is also marked by seriousness where the actual conferring of degrees signifies long, hard work on the part of everyone involved: students, faculty, administrators, parents and spouses. As a consequence of the serious nature of the ceremony, students and guests are expected to maintain a measure of decorum consonant with the occasion.

The University community requests that audience participation be of respectful celebration honoring the commitment to learning and the fulfillment of dreams shared by all degree candidates that today walk across the stage. This element of respectful celebration also extends to the parents, guardians and spouses whose labor and support brings pride to the fulfillment of these dreams, and to the family members aspiring to one day have their moment of “walking across the stage.”

CEREMONIAL FLAGS

Today we celebrate commencement at The University of Alabama. To commemorate the University’s most sacred ceremony, we draw from academic traditions that are centuries old. The Commencement “A” you see throughout these materials and on the commencement flags was first introduced to mark the Capstone’s conferral of degrees at the turn of the century. The Commencement A is a seventeenth-century, Gothic font appropriately named “Diploma.”

Lest We Forget...

As the University family comes together to celebrate commencement and to honor the hard work and accomplishments of our May and August 2011 graduates, we also pause to acknowledge an event that significantly changed the city of Tuscaloosa forever. When we look back on April 27, 2011, however, it is the resilience of our community that stands out, not the ferocity of the storm. And, it is the compassion and generosity of our students, employees and alumni as they work tirelessly to meet the needs of our friends and neighbors that so clearly define the Capstone. The outpouring of gifts, time and supplies from UA students, faculty and staff, and alumni continues to be a source of inspiration and pride.

The University expresses its deepest sympathies to those who lost loved ones. We especially mourn the loss of our students: Brandon S. Atterton, Danielle M. Downs, Ashley T. Harrison, Melanie N. Mixon, Morgan M. Sigler and Marcus J. Smith. We honor their memory and the contributions they made to our community today.

Our thanks go out to the first responders and everyone who worked to provide aid and assistance in the aftermath of the storm. We continue to partner with the city and county of Tuscaloosa to meet the needs of our students and employees, as well as our friends and neighbors.

Tuscaloosa is a strong community, and we are working together to rebuild our city even better than it was before.

We encourage every member of the UA family to continue to reach out to those in need in the communities where they live and work. At the end of the day, we are a University family united in service to our students, our faculty and staff, and our friends and neighbors, wherever we are and whenever we can help.

Please know that The University of Alabama is very proud of you, and wishes you much success and happiness in the coming years.

TERESA P. BOODY CAPSTONE INSPIRING EDUCATOR AWARD

The Capstone Inspiring Educator Award salutes a high school teacher, nominated by a member of the University of Alabama graduating class, for their inspirational approach to teaching and commitment to helping students achieve their greatest potential. Nominated by graduating senior Tommy Majors from the College of Arts and Sciences, the University of Alabama salutes Mrs. Teresa Boody.

Mrs. Boody founded the Latin program at Oak Mountain High School in Shelby County when she joined the faculty there in 1999. She also taught special education in Alabama public schools from 1975-1999. She says the Classics have truly made a difference in the lives of her students and have made her experiences at Oak Mountain High School “the most thrilling and fulfilling” of her career. Her enthusiastic teaching has earned her numerous awards including the Teacher of the Year for the Linda Nolen Learning Center; the Roberson Lifetime Commitment to Teaching Award from the University of Montevallo; and the 2011 College Board Southern Region Outstanding AP Teacher of the Year, among others.

She holds a B.A degree in history from the University of Montevallo and a master’s degree in learning disabilities from UAB. She earned additional certification in Latin from The University of Alabama and Troy University. She was awarded a Vergilian Society scholarship to study AP Latin in Italy last summer and has participated in numerous Alabama Humanities Foundation language and culture programs.

In nominating Mrs. Boody for the Capstone Inspiring Educator Award, Mr. Majors, wrote: Mrs. Boody was more than a teacher to me as I looked to her for guidance, wisdom and common sense. Her passion for teaching and her students is unrivaled. Mrs. Boody’s ability to connect on a personal level with students, discern their strengths and weaknesses, and then develop a strategy for an individual to succeed is unmatched.

DR. ELIZABETH S. AVERSA COMMENCEMENT MARSHAL

Dr. Elizabeth Aversa came to the University of Alabama in 2003 as professor and director of the School of Library and Information Studies (SLIS) in the College of Communication and Information Sciences. An Atlanta native, Dr. Aversa attended secondary schools in Baltimore, Maryland, and returned to Atlanta to receive a BA in English from Emory University. She spent a year as a technical writer for an engineering firm and then returned to Emory, earning a Masters in Librarianship. Dr. Aversa was a practicing librarian in public and state libraries and also engaged in consulting activities in communications and information services. She earned a Ph.D. in Information Studies at Drexel University, concentrating on information systems and management. Dr. Aversa held faculty positions at Florida State University, Drexel, and the University of Maryland. She served as Washington, DC, research representative for the Institute for Scientific Information (now part of Thomson Reuters) before being appointed dean of the library school at The Catholic University of America. She went on to head the School of Information Sciences at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville until her appointment at the Capstone. Dr. Aversa will rejoin the faculty in August 2011 after eight years as director of SLIS.

Dr. Aversa has authored or co-authored four books; over seventy articles, presentations and proceedings; and several book chapters and separately issued research reports. She is a referee for two information science journals and served as a column editor for a third. She was elected president of the Association for Library and information Science Education, chaired the Delaware Valley Chapter of the American Society for Information Science & Technology, and served on the boards of professional associations, community and network organizations, and as a trustee of Iona College. Dr. Aversa is active in accreditation activities of the American Library Association. In 2011 Dr. Aversa was honored to be named Alabama Librarian of the Year by Beta Phi Mu and to serve as the Elizabeth Stone Lecturer at Catholic University.

Under Dr. Aversa's leadership at UA, Masters programs in library and information studies and book arts have enjoyed unprecedented growth. SLIS launched highly successful synchronous online and blended program options for the MLIS in 2005 and 2009. The School's faculty and its programs have received national recognition and prestigious awards for teaching, service leadership, and research and creative work.

Dr. Aversa is married to A. Rocco Aversa, III, senior asphalt sales manager for NuStar Energy, LP, San Antonio, TX. Their daughter Margaret Elizabeth is a commercial insurance underwriter in Philadelphia, PA; their son John Rocco is a chef, musician, and personal trainer in Baltimore, MD. The Aversas have two grandsons, Pierce Lane and Preston Chase.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The processional signifies the beginning of the commencement ceremony. The Commencement Marshal presides over the Academic Procession; leads the platform party to the stage; escorts the honorary degree candidate and the special recognition recipients to the presidential podium for honorary degree conferral or special recognition citation reading; and signifies the closing of the ceremony by leading the platform party from the stage. The Commencement Marshal is the bearer of the ceremonial mace. As the processional music begins, the procession led by the candidates, followed by faculty, then the platform party, will enter the arena floor and go to their designated seating. The audience should rise once the processional music has begun and remain until after the invocation.

The caps and gowns worn by graduates, faculty and platform party are based on the academic costumes used in universities of the fourteenth or fifteenth centuries, particularly at Oxford and Cambridge. These academic costumes, sometimes referred to as academic regalia, are based on the early European universities costumes, and these have been used in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, American universities responded to a growing problem of varying academic costumes by creating an Intercollegiate Code to establish standardized academic costumes. Black is the most common color of academic gowns.

In the fall of 1999, a new doctoral gown was authorized for all University of Alabama students earning a doctorate degree. Designed to distinguish University of Alabama doctoral degree graduates, this new doctoral gown was introduced for the 21st century. The new doctoral gowns were worn for the first time at the May 2000 ceremony.

The doctoral gown includes two crimson University of Alabama seals on the front panel of the gown, while the traditional doctoral bars are piped with crimson. The new doctoral gowns place The University of Alabama among a select group of universities who have their own doctoral gowns including Harvard, Yale, Stanford and Princeton.

The members of The University of Alabama Board of Trustees wear black doctoral gowns trimmed in crimson velvet along with crimson velvet tams. The Commencement Marshal wears a gray doctoral gown trimmed in crimson velvet along with a black velvet tam. Graduates may be identified by the color of the tassel on the black mortar board which signifies the School or if they are receiving an advanced degree, the color of the band on the hood, which signifies the field of study.

The University of Alabama awards degrees with honors to undergraduate students in all schools and colleges who throughout their academic careers consistently achieved meritorious scholastic standing. These designations are summa cum laude, magna cum laude and cum laude. Summa cum laude is the highest academic distinction awarded. Degree candidates with honors wear stoles in the traditional colors of their school or college. Silver cords indicate participation in the University Honors Program. Royal blue and gold cords indicate participation in the International Honors Program. Computer Based Honors is represented by the purple honor cord.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the audience will rise for the singing of the “Alma Mater” and the recessional. The words to the “Alma Mater” are printed on the back cover of the program. The recessional is led by the platform party, followed by the faculty and the candidates. Candidates should meet their family members and guests at predetermined designated areas outside the coliseum.

The University of Alabama conditionally confers degrees upon all candidates for the degrees of Educational Specialists through undergraduate. Candidates for Doctor of Education, Doctor of Musical Arts, Doctor of Nursing Practice, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are actual degree recipients and will receive their diploma at the ceremony. Diplomas for all other candidates who successfully meet degree requirements will be mailed to their permanent address of record upon the completion of final grade submission and degree verification, approximately one month after the ceremony. Honors designations are calculated on previous semesters grade point average. The honor announced, depending upon calculation of final grade point average, may change or in some cases the degree candidate may not actually graduate with an honor designation.

Undergraduate degree candidates wearing the crimson mortar board have achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average for all of their University of Alabama course work.

An interpreter for hearing impaired spectators will be stationed on the stage and displayed on the Jumbotron.

Drinking fountains and restroom facilities are located on the main concourse area of the Coliseum.

Alma Mater

Alabama, listen Mother
To our vows of love,
To thyself and to each other
Faithful friends we'll prove.

Chorus:

Faithful, loyal firm and true
Heart bound to heart will beat
Year by year the ages through
Until in heaven we meet.

College days are swiftly fleeting.
Soon we'll leave thy halls,
Ne'er to join another meeting
'Neath thy hallowed walls

Chorus

So, farewell, dear Alma Mater,
May thy name, we pray,
Be revered ever, pure and stainless
As it is today.
