COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY DECORUM AND COURTESY

The faculty and staff at The University of Alabama congratulate you on your academic achievement and wish to ensure the commencement ceremony will be a fitting conclusion to this phase of your education!

The University of Alabama Commencement ceremony is, by its very nature, a festive occasion. The festivity manifests itself in many ways including the dress of the students; the faculty adorned in academic regalia; and the warmth, joy and satisfaction of accomplishment. The ceremony is also marked by seriousness where the actual conferring of degrees signifies long, hard work on the part of everyone involved: students, faculty, administrators, parents and spouses. As a consequence of the serious nature of the ceremony, students and guests are expected to maintain a measure of decorum consonant with the occasion.

The University community requests that audience participation be of respectful celebration honoring the commitment to learning and the fulfillment of dreams shared by all degree candidates that today walk across the stage. This element of respectful celebration also extends to the parents, guardians and spouses whose labor and support brings pride to the fulfillment of these dreams, and to the family members aspiring to one day have their moment of “walking across the stage.”

CEREMONIAL FLAGS

Today we celebrate commencement at The University of Alabama. To commemorate the University’s most sacred ceremony, we draw from academic traditions that are centuries old. The Commencement “A” you see throughout these materials and on the commencement flags was first introduced to mark the Capstone’s conferral of degrees at the turn of the century. The Commencement A is a seventeenth-century, Gothic font appropriately named “Diploma.”

STEVEN PRENTICE-DUNN COMMENCEMENT MARSHAL

Steven Prentice-Dunn, Ph.D., is a Professor of Psychology who has taught at the University of Alabama since 1981. He has served as the Director of Graduate Studies as well as the Coordinator of the Introductory Psychology Program.

Steve has taught a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses, including social psychology, research methods, statistics, and introductory psychology. For the past 20 years, Steve has offered Teaching of Psychology, a seminar in which advanced doctoral students receive close supervision as they learn teaching techniques and then implement them in their own small PY 101 course. A recent accreditation evaluator called Teaching of Psychology, “a wonderfully developed program that provides a unique learning experience for graduate students while also providing more personalized instruction in introductory psychology.”

Steve’s current undergraduate teaching emphasis is Introduction to Psychology in traditional, honors, and online formats. In 2010, he developed the first online PY 101 course offered at the University, with content being delivered through an e-book and online articles, interactive exercises, video clips, student discussion boards, recorded brief lectures from imminent researchers, and a constantly updated newsfeed of psychology headlines from around the world. In 2011, he created a PY 101 course in which students supplement attendance at large lectures with small interactive classes that involve group discussion, demonstrations, and writing projects.

Steve has been honored to receive the National Alumni Association’s Outstanding Commitment to Teaching Award, the Arts & Sciences Teaching Fellow designation, and the Psychology Chair’s Award for Distinguished Teaching. He has also been named Faculty Member of the Year by the Graduate Student Association and by Psi Chi, the psychology honorary society. He is the former consulting editor for the journal, Teaching of Psychology.

Steve is a social psychologist whose 90 publications focus on health and on teaching. In recent years, he has investigated brief, low-cost interventions to promote preventive health behaviors such as reducing deliberate sun exposure to lower skin cancer risk, complying with dietary guidelines following gastric bypass surgery, and increasing breast cancer awareness among young adults. He has also written articles on training graduate students to teach and on consultation with new instructors. Steve has been designated as a Fellow of the Society for Personality and Social Psychology.

Steve is married to Laurie Prentice-Dunn, the retired Executive Director of Indian Rivers Mental Health Center. Their children, Jesse and Hannah, work in the environmental and preventive health fields in Washington, DC and Chapel Hill, NC, respectively.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The processional signifies the beginning of the commencement ceremony. The Commencement Marshal presides over the Academic Procession; leads the platform party to the stage; escorts the honorary degree candidate and the special recognition recipients to the presidential podium for honorary degree conferral or special recognition citation reading; and signifies the closing of the ceremony by leading the platform party from the stage. The Commencement Marshal is the bearer of the ceremonial mace. As the processional music begins, the procession led by the candidates, followed by faculty, then the platform party, will enter the arena floor and go to their designated seating. The audience should rise once the processional music has begun and remain until after the invocation.

The caps and gowns worn by graduates, faculty and platform party are based on the academic costumes used in universities of the fourteenth or fifteenth centuries, particularly at Oxford and Cambridge. These academic costumes, sometimes referred to as academic regalia, are based on the early European universities costumes, and these have been used in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, American universities responded to a growing problem of varying academic costumes by creating an Intercollegiate Code to establish standardized academic costumes. Black is the most common color of academic gowns.

In the fall of 1999, a new doctoral gown was authorized for all University of Alabama students earning a doctorate degree. Designed to distinguish University of Alabama doctoral degree graduates, this new doctoral gown was introduced for the 21st century. The new doctoral gowns were worn for the first time at the May 2000 ceremony.

The doctoral gown includes two crimson University of Alabama seals on the front panel of the gown, while the traditional doctoral bars are piped with crimson. The new doctoral gowns place The University of Alabama among a select group of universities who have their own doctoral gowns including Harvard, Yale, Stanford and Princeton.

The members of The University of Alabama Board of Trustees wear doctoral gowns of charcoal gray trimmed in black velvet. The Commencement Marshal wears a crimson doctoral gown trimmed in red velvet. Graduates may be identified by the color of the tassel on the black mortar board which signifies the School or if they are receiving an advanced degree, the color of the band on the hood, which signifies the field of study.

The University of Alabama awards degrees with honors to undergraduate students in all schools and colleges who throughout their academic careers consistently achieved meritorious scholastic standing. These designations are summa cum laude, magna cum laude and cum laude. Summa cum laude is the highest academic distinction awarded. Degree candidates with honors wear stoles in the traditional colors of their school or college. Silver cords indicate participation in the University Honors Program. Royal blue and gold cords indicate participation in the International Honors Program. Computer Based Honors is represented by the purple honor cord.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the audience will rise for the singing of the “Alma Mater” and the recessional. The words to the “Alma Mater” are printed on the back cover of the program. The recessional is led by the platform party, followed by the faculty and the candidates. Candidates should meet their family members and guests at predetermined designated areas outside the coliseum.

The University of Alabama conditionally confers degrees upon all candidates for the degrees of Educational Specialists through undergraduate. Candidates for Doctor of Education, Doctor of Musical Arts, Doctor of Nursing Practice, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are actual degree recipients and will receive their diploma at the ceremony. Diplomas for all other candidates who successfully meet degree requirements will be mailed to their permanent address of record upon the completion of final grade submission and degree verification, approximately one month after the ceremony. Honors designations are calculated on previous semesters grade point average. The honor announced, depending upon calculation of final grade point average, may change or in some cases the degree candidate may not actually graduate with an honor designation.

Undergraduate degree candidates wearing the crimson mortar board have achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average for all of their University of Alabama course work.

An interpreter for hearing impaired spectators will be stationed on the stage and displayed on the Jumbotron.

Drinking fountains and restroom facilities are located on the main concourse area of the Coliseum.

Alma Mater

Alabama, listen Mother
To our vows of love,
To thyself and to each other
Faithful friends we'll prove.

Chorus:

Faithful, loyal firm and true
Heart bound to heart will beat
Year by year the ages through
Until in heaven we meet.

College days are swiftly fleeting.
Soon we'll leave thy halls,
Ne'er to join another meeting
'Neath thy hallowed walls

Chorus

So, farewell, dear Alma Mater,
May thy name, we pray,
Be revered ever, pure and stainless
As it is today.
