COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY DECORUM AND COURTESY

The faculty and staff at The University of Alabama congratulate you on your academic achievement and wish to ensure the commencement ceremony will be a fitting conclusion to this phase of your education!

The University of Alabama Commencement ceremony is, by its very nature, a festive occasion. The festivity manifests itself in many ways including the dress of the students; the faculty adorned in academic regalia; and the warmth, joy and satisfaction of accomplishment. The ceremony is also marked by seriousness where the actual conferring of degrees signifies long, hard work on the part of everyone involved: students, faculty, administrators, parents and spouses. As a consequence of the serious nature of the ceremony, students and guests are expected to maintain a measure of decorum consonant with the occasion.

The University community requests that audience participation be of respectful celebration honoring the commitment to learning and the fulfillment of dreams shared by all degree candidates that today walk across the stage. This element of respectful celebration also extends to the parents, guardians and spouses whose labor and support brings pride to the fulfillment of these dreams, and to the family members aspiring to one day have their moment of “walking across the stage.”

Today we celebrate commencement at The University of Alabama. To commemorate the University’s most sacred ceremony, we draw from academic traditions that are centuries old. The Commencement “A” you see throughout these materials and on the commencement flags was first introduced to mark the Capstone’s conferral of degrees at the turn of the century. The Commencement A is a seventeenth-century, Gothic font appropriately named “Diploma.”

STEPHEN KATSINAS COMMENCEMENT MARSHAL

Dr. Stephen G. Katsinas is Director of the Education Policy Center and Professor of Higher Education. An Illinois native, he earned his Bachelor's in History from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and his Master's in History and Doctorate of Philosophy in Higher Education from Southern Illinois University.

In 1985, he began his professional career at The University of Alabama. He then worked at Miami-Dade College, one of the nation's largest, before teaching at Oklahoma State University, and serving as department head and center director at the University of Toledo. In 2000, when selected by the University of North Texas, Dr. Katsinas became the youngest endowed chair in the field of higher education nationally. He returned to the Capstone in August 2005.

His research interests include federal and state education policy, history, and coordination, economic development, and public access four-year flagship and regional universities. He is lead author for the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching's 2010 Basic Classification, which identifies a geographic differential (rural, suburban, urban) for Associate's Colleges. These classifications are included in all published federal education data sets. In 2014, he coauthored the 4th edition of Fifty State Community College Systems, 4th Edition.

As Director of The University of Alabama's oldest center, which dates to the 1920s, Dr. Katsinas directs its research on post-secondary institutions and students. Since 2005, the EPC has published or partnered to publish 31 issue briefs and reports, and 30 juried articles in four interrelated areas: (1) access and finance of public higher education, (2) college completion, (3) Pell Grants, and (4) rural community colleges. These have been presented at congressional briefings, the White House Domestic Policy Issues' Rural Council, and the U.S. Departments of Education, Agriculture, and other federal agencies, and have been extensively covered in national education and mainstream media. The EPC is a leading voice for federal issues in the State of Alabama and the Deep South, a region not well represented in national education debates (see uaedpolicy.ua.edu).

Katsinas since 2005 has received the Ross Palmer Service to Students Award from the College of Education, the Teaching Excellence Award from the College of Continuing Studies, and the University's Blackmon-Moody Award for outstanding research. He has served on committees on Athletics, Budget and Finance, Libraries, and Recreation, and co-chaired the committee that wrote the University's successful application to the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching for its prestigious Curricular and Student Engagement designation. He has received the George Autry Lifetime Achievement Award from the Rural Community College Alliance as well as the Senior Scholar Award from the Council for the Study of Community Colleges. Dr. Katsinas is particularly proud of the work of the Carl Elliott Society, the University's Service Honorary, for which he serves as Faculty Advisor. More than 1,150 eighth graders have come to the Capstone through its KickStartCollege Program to learn which courses to take in high school to be college-ready, and how to obtain financial aid.

Today, Dr. Katsinas lives in Tuscaloosa with his wife Dr. Rene' P. Katsinas, who directs residence services at Capstone Village. He has two children, Steven and Elena, and three grandchildren (Aly, Evan, and Anastasia).

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The processional signifies the beginning of the commencement ceremony. The Commencement Marshal presides over the Academic Procession; leads the platform party to the stage; escorts the honorary degree candidate and the special recognition recipients to the presidential podium for honorary degree conferral or special recognition citation reading; and signifies the closing of the ceremony by leading the platform party from the stage. The Commencement Marshal is the bearer of the ceremonial mace. As the processional music begins, the procession led by the candidates, followed by faculty, then the platform party, will enter the arena floor and go to their designated seating. The audience should rise once the processional music has begun and remain until after the invocation.

The caps and gowns worn by graduates, faculty and platform party are based on the academic costumes used in universities of the fourteenth or fifteenth centuries, particularly at Oxford and Cambridge. These academic costumes, sometimes referred to as academic regalia, are based on the early European universities costumes, and these have been used in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, American universities responded to a growing problem of varying academic costumes by creating an Intercollegiate Code to establish standardized academic costumes. Black is the most common color of academic gowns.

In the fall of 1999, a new doctoral gown was authorized for all University of Alabama students earning a doctorate degree. Designed to distinguish University of Alabama doctoral degree graduates, this new doctoral gown was introduced for the 21st century. The new doctoral gowns were worn for the first time at the May 2000 ceremony.

The doctoral gown includes two crimson University of Alabama seals on the front panel of the gown, while the traditional doctoral bars are piped with crimson. The new doctoral gowns place The University of Alabama among a select group of universities who have their own doctoral gowns including Harvard, Yale, Stanford and Princeton.

The members of The University of Alabama Board of Trustees wear black doctoral gowns trimmed in crimson velvet. The Commencement Marshal wears a charcoal gray doctoral gown trimmed in crimson velvet. Graduates may be identified by the color of the tassel on the black mortar board which signifies the School or if they are receiving an advanced degree, the color of the band on the hood, which signifies the field of study.

The University of Alabama awards degrees with honors to undergraduate students in all schools and colleges who throughout their academic careers consistently achieved meritorious scholastic standing. These designations are summa cum laude, magna cum laude and cum laude. Summa cum laude is the highest academic distinction awarded. Degree candidates with honors wear stoles in the traditional colors of their school or college. Silver cords indicate participation in the University Honors Program. Royal blue and gold cords indicate participation in the International Honors Program. Computer Based Honors is represented by the purple honor cord.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the audience will rise for the singing of the “Alma Mater” and the recessional. The words to the “Alma Mater” are printed on the back cover of the program. The recessional is led by the platform party, followed by the faculty and the candidates. Candidates should meet their family members and guests at predetermined designated areas outside the coliseum.

The University of Alabama conditionally confers degrees upon all candidates for the degrees of Educational Specialists through undergraduate. Candidates for Doctor of Education, Doctor of Musical Arts, Doctor of Nursing Practice, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees are actual degree recipients and will receive their diploma at the ceremony. Diplomas for all other candidates who successfully meet degree requirements will be mailed to their permanent address of record upon the completion of final grade submission and degree verification, approximately one month after the ceremony. Honors designations are calculated on previous semesters grade point average. The honor announced, depending upon calculation of final grade point average, may change or in some cases the degree candidate may not actually graduate with an honor designation.

Undergraduate degree candidates wearing the crimson mortar board have achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average for all of their University of Alabama course work.

An interpreter for hearing impaired spectators will be stationed on the stage and displayed on the Jumbotron.

Alma Mater

*Alabama, listen Mother
To our vows of love,
To thyself and to each other
Faithful friends we'll prove.*

Chorus:

*Faithful, loyal, firm and true
Heart bound to heart will beat
Year by year the ages through
Until in heaven we meet.*

*College days are swiftly fleeting.
Soon we'll leave thy halls,
Ne'er to join another meeting
'Neath thy hallowed walls*

Chorus

*So, farewell, dear Alma Mater,
May thy name, we pray,
Be revered ever, pure and stainless
As it is today.*

Chorus
